Weltman
Weltman, Weinberg & Reis Co., LPA

Justin began his journey at Weltman as a summer law clerk and steadily advanced to become an attorney through his consistency, reliability, and positive attitude.

Justin contributes to the firm's Compliance Audit Department with his extensive knowledge and expertise in federal and state debt collection laws. His role includes researching statutes and case law, assisting in drafting legal documents, and creating guidance on general or unique debt collection topics. He also engages with clients and legal counsel to develop solutions related to debt collection issues.

Justin's passion to become an attorney was driven by his desire to identify the root cause of any problem and solve it, no matter the challenge. Through Justin's academic career, he learned that law offered one of the best avenues for achieving this.

In his spare time, Justin enjoys outdoor activities, especially kayaking, visiting parks and historic sites, attending sporting events, and spotting wildlife. When he's not outside, you can often find him experimenting with a new recipe or enjoying a good movie.
