Haley is known for her reliability, organization, and proactive approach. She represents creditors with a balanced blend of compassion and efficiency, always aiming for the most constructive resolution possible.

As an Illinois-admitted Attorney, Haley brings a broad range of legal experience to her work representing creditors. Before joining the firm, she built a strong foundation across multiple areas of practice, including immigration law and family law, working as a legal assistant, law clerk, and later as an Associate Attorney. Her background gives her a deep understanding of the legal process from start to finish, as well as the ability to manage high-volume caseloads and support clients through challenging situations.

Haley's path to becoming an attorney was shaped by resilience and determination. After taking time to reassess her career goals, she committed to pursuing law while working full-time, attending classes in the evening, and ultimately completing her degree ahead of schedule.

Haley strives to differentiate herself by leading with compassion and focusing on solutions that allow all parties to achieve the best possible outcome under the circumstances. She is an active member of the Chicago Bar Association and is committed to providing steady, thoughtful representation to creditors across industries.

Outside of work, Haley is an easygoing person who enjoys long walks outdoors, reading, and solving sudoku puzzles. She values balance, curiosity, and staying grounded through simple daily routines.
